Tutoring Experience

For the past 10 years, I have specialised in teaching IB and IGCSE Geography to students worldwide. My experience as Head of Humanities has allowed me to develop strategies to simplify complex topics such as climate change, geopolitics, and urbanisation. I've supported students in achieving excellent results in their coursework and exams.

I also teach A-Level and AP Geography, tailoring lessons to curriculum-specific needs. My sessions focus on in-depth analysis and critical thinking, helping students confidently tackle their assessments. Whether working on resource management case studies or global sustainability projects, I ensure my students are well-prepared to excel academically.
