Tutoring Experience

Over the past 12 years, I have guided students from diverse academic backgrounds, helping them achieve exceptional results in IB Geography and related curriculums. My experience includes supporting students through coursework, preparing for exams, and developing a comprehensive understanding of geographical concepts, including sustainability and globalisation.

I have also worked with students preparing for SATs and A-Level Geography, tailoring my approach to align with the specific curriculum requirements. Whether supporting map analysis or essay-based assessments, I ensure my students develop critical thinking skills essential for academic success.
