Tutoring Experience

Over the last seven years, I have helped students excel in their IB, A-Level, and IGCSE Maths studies. My approach is focused on ensuring that students grasp fundamental concepts, building the foundation they need to succeed in exams. I've worked with students across multiple countries, offering personalised support to each one.

In addition to IB and A-Level curricula, I have also guided students through AP Calculus, helping them improve their grades and test scores.
